10 East
Superior
Street...F. A. PARKER CO.10 East
Superior
Street...WHOLESALE AND RETAIL CROCKERY, GLASSWARE, CHINA, LAMPS, ETC.*Announcement...

We came to Duluth primarily as an exclusive Wholesale House and the most extensive branch of our business at the present time is the Wholesale Department. We soon found out that there was no retail stock in the city that covered the wants of the people. They could not get what they wanted and the prices charged were excessive. We concluded, therefore, that we could remove our stock from Fifth Avenue West (the wholesale district) to a reasonably good retail location on Superior Street, without increasing our expenses, and increasing the volume of our business by supplying the needs of the retail buyers. It was our purpose not to advance our prices to the standard of retail dealers, but to actually retail our stock at wholesale prices. This is one reason why we undersell all others. Another reason, we imported in 1895 over 100 crates of Dinnerware alone. This is more by one-half than all of the retail dealers alone handle, and gives us the lowest prices. Without further explanation we leave you to draw your own conclusions. The increased demands of a growing wholesale business require us to immediately close out our entire retail stock, and if prices will do it, it will be done. We include the entire stock with the exception of White Haviland China and Rookwood Pottery.

Sale begins Saturday, Feb. 1st, so save up money.

F. A. PARKER CO., No. 10 East Superior Street.

Silverware.

We have selected from the many Silverware manufacturers the agency of the Wm. Rogers Manufacturing Co., because we believe their goods to be the best.

They guarantee their ware to strip 33 1/3 per cent more silver than that of any other "Rogers" manufacturer in existence.

We wish to state frankly that the stock of these best goods is limited. They may not last a day, and we will only sell 1 dozen to a customer.

We have other and cheaper grades in Knives, Forks, Tea, Dessert and Table Spoons.

Bric-a-Brac, Fish, Chocolate and Ice Cream Sets.

We have not room on this sheet to enumerate every article we have in stock. Our idea is simply to give you an idea of what we carry and the prices that will prevail during our sale.

12-piece Sets, Decorated; special wholesale price.....	$11.45	Sale price.....	$9.58

Notice we offer you these Sets at better than special wholesale prices.

In conclusion we wish to state plainly that we are not going to have a "half price sale." We are going to close out our retail stock and we simply add to the cost of our goods a percentage just sufficient to pay the running expenses of our retail department. You will get the goods, therefore, at actual cost. Do not ask for credit. We cannot afford to grant it at these prices.

SCHEDULE

Statement of the Howard & Haynie Business Was Filed Today.

The Total Liabilities Amount to About Eighty Thousand Dollars.

No Record of Cash Assets is Included in the List.

The schedule of assets and liabilities of Howard & Haynie was filed yesterday afternoon by Assignee Monroe Nichols. The figures are large, and the schedule of assets is contained in three account books which are inventories of the stock. The figures are not completed, but the liabilities amount to about $79,000. The largest item is a note of $20,000 due John G. Howard. The assets will amount to about $40,000, and they consist entirely of stock, fixtures and book accounts. The stock is inventoried at $34,200, a delivery horse and wagon is placed at $100. This makes $34,300. The book accounts, which are very numerous, will bring the assets up to fully $40,000. A great many of the book accounts are valueless, but only the estimated values are included as assets. No cash assets whatever are listed, although the creditors have an affidavit on file to the effect that $40,000 was taken in during the half-price sale. This is undoubtedly a great deal too high. E. C. Howard while on the stand last Saturday stated that large amounts were taken in, but that he could account for it all, and that a number of bills and notes were paid. Judge Morris has filed an order denying a motion for a new trial in the case of August C. Lafane against the Duluth Gas and Water company.

QUICKLY CAUGHT.

Young Forger Placed Behind the Bars Last Evening.

A young man, giving his name as G. W. Stewart, was arrested last night by Detective Benson, charged with uttering and attempting to pass a forged check on William M. Abrahamson, of the Hub Clothing company, at 235 West Superior street. Stewart produced a letter from the Horton Portrait company, of St. Paul, asking that the check be cashed. A telegram to that company brought the information that Stewart was a fraud, and his arrest followed. This afternoon he was arraigned and, after an examination, held to the district court.

There appears to be an epidemic of forgeries just at present, and Charles Shrinman, who is a ward of the court, is another of the offenders. Last Saturday he was arraigned and charged with passing a check for $40 at E. F. Siegel's saloon, 320 East Superior street. The imposition was not discovered until yesterday, when the check was returned dishonored. In the meanwhile young Shrinman had disappeared, and is supposed to have gone to Cripple Creek.

SPLENDID ICE! BEST OF MUSIC! ENDION RINK TONIGHT.

SENT TO STATE PRISON. Alexander Pence, who pleaded guilty at St. Paul, in a robbery with the wife of Joseph Kozik, was yesterday sent to the state prison under the reformatory plan. Pence and Mrs. Kozik were recently arrested in Duluth on the complaint of Mr. Kozik. They eloped from St. Paul and were living here together as man and wife.

CUT THE PRICE.

Cost of Fuel Gas is Reduced One-Third.

O. C. Hartman, president and general manager of the Duluth Gas and Water company, announces that after Feb. 1 the price charged by the company for fuel gas will be $1 per thousand feet, a reduction of one-third, the price charged now being $1.50 per thousand. No reduction in the price of illuminating gas has been decided upon as yet, but it is announced that it is the company's intention to make one as soon as it is fully determined just how much it can be.

Next week the offices of the Duluth Gas and Water company at the corner of Third avenue west and First street and the Hartman General Electric company in the Exchange building will be moved to the building now occupied by the National Bank of Commerce. The whole ground floor has been leased and will be occupied by these offices and C. and A. W. Hartman will also have their offices there. They will begin moving on Saturday.

QUESTIONS RAISED.

What Some Attorneys Say of the Franchise Repeal.

The action of the council Monday evening in repealing the gas and water company's franchise is being discussed quite generally today and by nobody more than by the attorneys. A Herald man talked to several of them and some ideas were advanced which may be unexpected. Said one of them:

"Let us consider the action of the council in its strictly legal aspect, that is, without going into the question of what course this policy may cause the Hartmans to take. This ordinance passed Monday night is either without any legal effect, or it accomplishes the purpose for which it was designed. If the first be true, it is more buncombe, but assuming that it is a valid repeal of the company's charter, what effect will it have on the city? A franchise is nothing but a license granted by the city for the purposes and privileges stated in it, and without its franchise this company would have no right to supply gas or water. Take away its franchise and it has its plant on its hands, but no right to do business. If the repeal is valid, what right has the company to furnish any water or gas?"

"Supposing interests unfriendly to the city, such as Belknap's, were in control now, or suppose that the Hartmans themselves should see it to shut down the plant and say that, as their legal right to do business is taken away from them, they did not propose to continue any longer. Where would the city be? What would the citizens say to that? Where would they get their supply of water and where would the city get its water for fire protection? Would not every insurance company cancel its risks and send rates way up in the air?"

"It may be said that the city would take hold of the plant and run it. But could the city do it? The city might take away the company's franchise, but that would not confiscate its property. In case the company should decide to go out of business temporarily, because the city had refused to allow it to continue legally, there does not seem to be any law by which the city could compel the company to continue to furnish water to the citizens when, by its own act, it has taken away the only right which the company had of doing business in the city."

Another attorney coincided with this view to a considerable extent, and said: "Possibly the council may have put its head in the lion's mouth. I do not anticipate that the Hartmans will cause any trouble, or will stop furnishing water, but supposing they did, what could the city do?"

"Suppose, also, that the council announces that as the franchise is repealed, it no longer has to pay any hydrant rentals, and cuts them off, and that the Hartmans then proceed to lock every hydrant. Where would the citizens be in case of a fire, and what redress would they have against the company?"

"Now for another supposition. Suppose the Hartmans continue to furnish water without any franchise binding them, and proceed to double up the rates. What redress will there be if the franchise is not binding?"

A further opinion from another attorney follows: "I do not think the citizens need stand in much fear, for the courts would go a long way to help them out when almost their very existence depends on having water. But with the city's contract for hydrant rentals, it is different. That contract is embodied in the franchise, but it really separates from it. It can be withdrawn by mutual agreement without affecting the franchise itself. Now, as I take it, the company, if it so desires, can say to the city that it is perfectly willing to withdraw from that contract, and then it is ended. Then it can turn around and refuse water for fire protection, except upon its own terms. The city has expressed its desire to withdraw from the contract, and the whole matter lies with the company, as I view it. The city cannot refuse performance on its part, and still compel performance on the company's part."

FLYNN AND CHALK.

Back From Their Trip to Isle Royale.

The steamer Stewart got back today shortly after noon and Capt. Con Flynn went up to the custom house and reported his boat light from Isle Royale.

It will be remembered that a report was circulated that the Stewart had gone to Isle Royale to pick up some of the Conturion's jettisoned cargo, as soon as the report got about the tug Record took two deputy marshals down to Isle Royale to watch the copper for the rest of the winter at the instance of the men who had chased the jettisoned cargo. The Record deposited the watchmen and came back. The appearance of the Stewart and her crew so soon would indicate that the deputies must have effectively got in their work. The fact that the Stewart reported light indicates that she got no copper.

Isle Royale is out of the Duluth district, so she violated a rule in departing for there without taking out clearance papers. Capt. Flynn's explanation is that he intended to go to Grand Marais, which is in this district, and get his papers there. When he got there he found the customs officer closed for the season, and he had to go on without any papers. Nothing has yet been done about the matter, so it is

WEST END

S. D. Allen Supporters Held a Large Meeting Last Evening.

Henry Truelsen Held Forth at Isaacson & Kauppi's Hall.

Death of Mrs. O'Meara From a Complication of Troubles.

West Duluth was deluged with political forces last evening. The Allen forces held forth in the big tent at Grant Eastern hall, while "Honest Henry" and his little band held the town at Isaacson & Kauppi's hall at the West End.

Grant Eastern hall was well filled and the audience was in a most enthusiastic mood. L. A. Barnes, city commissioner of the Seventh ward, presided and introduced the speakers of the evening in a graceful manner.

Mr. Allen spoke first as he was looked for another speech later, and desired to get away early. The enthusiasm which greeted him as he rose to speak belated the growing interest in his candidacy and the fact that he is becoming more popular every day as the campaign nears its close.

Last evening he brushed away several tears of Henry's supporters and left a splendid impression of his abilities and grasp of the situation that confronts the city of Duluth at the present time.

Mr. Allen was followed by George C. Higgins, who is a clear speaker and delights the audience with many telling hits.

A. R. McDonald and C. W. Hoyt gave short addresses and the audience was pleased to listen to a speech from L. J. Borgstrom in their native language, and judging from the applause given him he must have met their cheering approval.

THE TRUENSEN MEETING.

The Truelsen meeting was held in a small hall, and although it was crowded there were only about 200 persons present. The irrepressible Mr. Cosell made one of his sky-scraping speeches and Mr. Minto told the old story of how good and great was Mr. Truelsen.

H. H. Saunders also spoke and was followed by Henry Truelsen, who bore the same line of argument as before and introduced no new evidence with the exception of some affidavits from somebodies that Mr. Allen said that he would not believe a union man under oath. As Mr. Allen has already denounced the statement as an untruthful lie, it is difficult to see what Mr. Truelsen did not do to arouse the excited enthusiasm.

UPWARD

The Duluth Wheat Market is Again on the Upward Bent.

With a Weak Interval This Morning It Rises Later.

Cause of the Rise Was a Decrease in California Stocks.

The Duluth wheat market opened firmly this morning at 22 1/2, in a range of 22 1/2 to 23 1/2, and closed at 23 1/2, an advance of 1/2 cent from yesterday's close. After that the market was weaker for an hour, and it dropped to 22 1/2 before anything better was made. It was nearly 11 o'clock before the market began to rise, and it did not stop then, but marched steadily on until it was better. Then it reacted, apparently of its own volition, and dropped back to 22 1/2. Then it recovered to 23 1/2, at which price the last sale was made, and closed at 23 1/2, an advance of 1/2 cent for the day, all around except for wheat to arrive, which bettered to 23 1/2.

Early in the session dealers came firm and higher with a good demand for wheat, though the Northwestern receipts were somewhat larger. Chicago reported that Arruon was buying. Later the market began to weaken under the influence of local news. Atlantic clearance were small and Northwestern receipts were on the day before, but the corresponding day of last week, at 23 1/2, was a weak one, and the market was not so strong. Another factor was the fact that the market was full of wheat which might be sold at any time, and it was reported that Argentine wheat was coming in three weeks, and that India might arrive with a good deal of wheat for export at any further material advance.

Then the situation was changed by news that the Northwestern receipts were in two weeks in California stocks and that there was general extreme firmness on the Pacific side from the hulls. Chicago advised 12,000 bushels to go East by rail for export, and it was claimed that there would be more later today.

Weather was again mild with rain in the central and snow in the north. The effect of the winter wheat country production for tomorrow. Liverpool closed at 2 1/2, an advance and all foreign markets were higher.

The Duluth closing prices were as follows:

THE WEATHER.

United States Agricultural Department, Weather Bureau, Duluth, Jan. 30.—Cloudy weather prevailed in the lake region, the Mississippi, Lower Missouri and Red River valleys at 2 a. m. today, and snow was falling quite generally in the Rocky Mountain and Great Basin regions. In the Northern Hemisphere, in the Mississippi valley, the temperature ranged from 34 at St. Paul to 26 at Memphis and in the lake region it ranged from 31 at Port Arthur to 25 at Detroit and Chicago.

Duluth temperature 71 a. m. today, 30 maximum yesterday, 21 minimum yesterday, 21. Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity until 7 p. m. tomorrow: Light rain or snow, slightly cooler Friday afternoon, northeast and north winds.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—Forecast until 8 a. m. tomorrow: Wisconsin: Threatening weather tonight, probably rain, Friday, northerly winds. Minnesota: Cloudy weather with possibly light rain or snow Friday; northerly winds.

MR. TRULSEN'S OFFICIAL RECORD.
The only way to gauge Mr. Trulsen's fitness for the mayoralty is to look at his record in the offices he has filled—the last seven years. He satisfactorily performed the duties of sheriff, to which office he was undoubtedly elected by the favor of the Minnesota Iron company, but those duties were merely routine and did not involve the same responsibilities that the mayor of this city must handle. He was president of the board of public works from 1891 to 1894, and his record in this position bears on the present controversy.

Mr. Trulsen had considerable trouble as president of the board of public works. Assessments were set aside repeatedly that were made by his board, and the payment for improvements covered by these assessments was thrown on the city, and the city finances were crippled to such an extent that even before the panic of 1893 there were apprehensions of bankruptcy on the part of the city, caused entirely by the fact that assessments made by Mr. Trulsen were set aside by the courts. Prior to Mr. Trulsen's term of office hardly an instance had occurred of an assessment being set aside.

In 1890 the supreme court decided, in a case which went up from St. Paul, that the grade had to be established on the street before it could be improved. In 1891, after the improvement of Fourth street and making of a heavy assessment for that purpose, Mr. Trulsen was informed by a lawyer in good standing in this city that if the assessment on Piedmont avenue was as heavy as that on Fourth street had been it would be resisted and, furthermore, that it would be illegal to make an assessment for the improvement of Piedmont avenue until the grade had been established under the then recedent decision of the supreme court.

Mr. Trulsen told his informant that this was all nonsense, or words to that effect, that the grade could be established at any time, and immediately proceeded to make the improvement of Piedmont avenue and to levy an assessment for nearly the full cost of the improvement. The original estimated cost of this improvement was $64,000. After the contract was let the engineer's estimate of cost was in round numbers, $75,000. The actual cost of the improvement was $110,000. The increased cost was caused by changes which Mr. Trulsen made by his own authority (for it is a well known fact that during his term Mr. Trulsen was the whole board of public works) from the original plan as approved by the common council.

The district court held that Mr. Trulsen, in making these changes, had exceeded his authority; it further held that the only provision under the city charter allowing changes to be made from the original plans, on which bids were called for, was a provision that such changes should be made by the common council. The court held that even to make the limited change provided for by this passage of the charter, the board of public works must have the concurrence of the common council, and it held that Mr. Trulsen's action in increasing the cost of this improvement from $64,000 to $110,000 was totally unauthorized, and that the city must pay out of the general fund for this unauthorized increase in the cost of the improvement.

Now it is to be borne in mind in connection with the history of this improvement that while Mr. Trulsen was increasing this expense and running up the cost of the improvement from $64,000 to $110,000, he knew all the time, or at least had been informed, that every step of the improvement was illegal, because the grade of the street had not yet been established. He never consulted the city attorney on the question at all. Mr. Allen was then city attorney, and this assessment was made entirely without consultation with him, and without any effort on the part of Mr. Trulsen to discover whether he had been correctly informed that the whole of the improvement and the assessment was illegal.

It is expected that Mr. Trulsen, if elected, will have to superintend the building of a water plant, which will cost altogether somewhere from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. It is very apparent from the above record that he is entirely unfitted to carry out any such work; first, by reason of his extravagance, as shown in the increase of the cost of the Piedmont avenue improvement from $64,000 to $110,000, and secondly, by reason of his lack of ordinary business prudence, as shown by the fact that he went ahead with an improvement of such magnitude, and actually increased its cost from $64,000 to $110,000, without even asking the common council if the improvement was legal, and when he had been informed, before a dollar was spent on it, that the improvement was illegal and unauthorized.

Furthermore, the charter of this city requires that all improvements should be made according to benefits. There is not a word in the charter which gives the right to the board to assess a lot for a cost beyond the benefits, and it certainly would be gross injustice to do so. But either from lack of judgment, or because it was too much trouble to make this assessment in the way the law required, Mr. Trulsen entirely disregarded the question of benefits in the matter of this Piedmont avenue assessment, so that while the district court ordered the city to pay $36,000 additional cost which Mr. Trulsen, by unauthorized changes in the manner of making the improvement, had added to the expense of the city, the supreme court decided that the city must pay the whole amount of $110,000, because the assessment was made without regard to benefits, and in a way which the law did not allow.

AN IMPOSSIBLE IDEA.
An Illinois man has been airing his pipe in the Chicago Times-Herald on the project of cutting off parts of the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan and forming a new state to be called Superior, of which Duluth would be the capital. The state of Superior would have an area of 50,550 square miles; Minnesota, 50,582 square miles; Wisconsin, 46,433 square miles, and Michigan, 41,364 square miles. The population of the four states would be, as follows: Superior, 47,597; Minnesota, 1,566,588; Wisconsin, 1,790,539; Michigan, 2,032,965.

Of course it is almost nonsensical to discuss such a plan. The Minneapolis Tribune expresses the belief that it would appear like a political impossibility, in the present condition of public sentiment, and it is undoubtedly correct in its opinion. The Tribune also says: "It is possible that Michigan would be willing to surrender the Upper Peninsula, but we don't imagine that this project will find any very enthusiastic general support in either Wisconsin or Minnesota. Duluth might favor it, as it would make her the capital of a new and important state, but the rest of Minnesota would be unwilling to surrender the great fertile region to the north and west of Minneapolis."

In assuming that Duluth favors the idea, the Tribune is mistaken. There is no sentiment of any consequence here in favor of a new state. Almost every person who comes to Duluth has the idea as visionary and impossible. Nor have the citizens of Duluth any desire to be separated from the great state of Minnesota.

THE ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH (Dem.) says: "There is more talk of Carlisle as a candidate for president. There are many Democrats who would like to see Mr. Carlisle a candidate for something in order that they might vote against him."

All the news when it is the news will be found in The Herald. Some other papers print part of the news and then boast about some particular item. But The Herald is the only paper in Duluth that gives all the latest news.

Potter Palmer, of Chicago, is mentioned in connection with the vacant ambassadorship to Germany. This will give the paragraphs a chance to say something about Potter Palmer, who is being an able diplomat.

A Kansas man has sued for divorce because his wife should not be at the Washington Post expresses a belief that this is the first semblance of a move to eliminate the idiotic college yell.

THE CHIEF feature of the news from Washington yesterday was Senator Tillman's sensational speech, and of course it was given by The Herald only in Duluth.

THE MESABA'S VICTORY.

What the Agreement at Cleveland Has Shown.

A Minneapolis dispatch to The Herald yesterday stated that the recent conference of iron men at Cleveland to agree to the iron output this year against the strong statements made by the Mesaba range is a great victory for the Mesaba.

The Journal says the individual Mesaba and Vermilion ranges in Minnesota are, as follows: Mesaba 1,000,000 tons; Vermilion 2,500,000 tons; and the Gogebic, 2,500,000 tons. The Journal says the individual Mesaba and Vermilion ranges in Minnesota are, as follows: Mesaba 1,000,000 tons; Vermilion 2,500,000 tons; and the Gogebic, 2,500,000 tons.

The goldbug organs will no doubt hold up their hands in affected horror at the strong statements made by the Mesaba range, but there are thousands of thinking men in the country today, honest, true and patriotic Americans, lovers of their country and its institutions, who will yet secure the adoption of measures that will restore the land to the prosperity which it should enjoy, who will endorse every word that he uttered.

The political revolution that he predicted is not a mystical fancy of his brain. It is as certain to come as anything in the future can be regarded as certain, if the bankers and brokers of Wall street and their sycophants and deluded followers throughout the country who are preaching the single gold standard doctrine continue the policy that they are now pursuing. The masses of the people are strong believers in bimetalism as the only salvation of the country, and they will yet secure the restoration of silver to its rightful place alongside gold as primary money. The goldbugs say "the silver craze is dead." Let them continue to delude themselves with this idea, and they will see their present tactics and they will find themselves in the midst of a political storm such as was never before witnessed in this country.

THE CAUSE OF Bimetallism is not dead. It is not sleeping—but it is steadily growing and expanding. When we behold the deplorable state of the federal treasury, can we wonder that earnest men like Senator Tillman apply the strongest incentives to the public men who refuse to enact the only legislation that will provide the solution of the problem and raise the country from the depths of depression into the sunlight of prosperity?

By an error the following appeared in an article in The Herald last night: "The fact of the matter is that during the last campaign Mr. Trulsen never took a prominent part in opposition to this purchase." His official record in the board of public works is sufficient to condemn him as a man who is not fit to be mayor of this city."

THE MESABA'S VICTORY.

What the Agreement at Cleveland Has Shown.

A Minneapolis dispatch to The Herald yesterday stated that the recent conference of iron men at Cleveland to agree to the iron output this year against the strong statements made by the Mesaba range is a great victory for the Mesaba.

The Journal says the individual Mesaba and Vermilion ranges in Minnesota are, as follows: Mesaba 1,000,000 tons; Vermilion 2,500,000 tons; and the Gogebic, 2,500,000 tons. The Journal says the individual Mesaba and Vermilion ranges in Minnesota are, as follows: Mesaba 1,000,000 tons; Vermilion 2,500,000 tons; and the Gogebic, 2,500,000 tons.

The goldbug organs will no doubt hold up their hands in affected horror at the strong statements made by the Mesaba range, but there are thousands of thinking men in the country today, honest, true and patriotic Americans, lovers of their country and its institutions, who will yet secure the adoption of measures that will restore the land to the prosperity which it should enjoy, who will endorse every word that he uttered.

The political revolution that he predicted is not a mystical fancy of his brain. It is as certain to come as anything in the future can be regarded as certain, if the bankers and brokers of Wall street and their sycophants and deluded followers throughout the country who are preaching the single gold standard doctrine continue the policy that they are now pursuing. The masses of the people are strong believers in bimetalism as the only salvation of the country, and they will yet secure the restoration of silver to its rightful place alongside gold as primary money. The goldbugs say "the silver craze is dead." Let them continue to delude themselves with this idea, and they will see their present tactics and they will find themselves in the midst of a political storm such as was never before witnessed in this country.

The poultry show of the Northern Wisconsin and Northern Minnesota Poultry association is still drawing good-sized crowds. Every poultry fancier in the city is interested, and there is, in addition, a good display of pictures.

Some of the good people of London are disturbed by the fact that women are employed as stevedores at the East India docks, says the Chicago Chronicle. They have been loading and unloading vessels so far the experiment has been confined to vessels used for the transit of mineral water bottles and light articles of a similar character. Down to the present the men stevedores have been doing the work, but are inclined to regard the new departure with amusement. The women stevedores have already formed a distinct union of their own.

DANCING CLASS.

Policemen Have One to Prepare For the Ball.

As Feb. 3, the date set for the police ball at the Spaulding, draws near, elaborate preparations for the event among the officers who will participate are being made. The latest wrinkle is the formation of a dancing class composed of the members of the off-duty squad. Every afternoon the assembly room is converted into a dancing hall and resounds with the blithesome trip of a dozen or more 300-pound blues.

As the members of the class are all busily engaged in keeping in good condition, the police ball is in the hands of the Wisconsin state union, is conducting the rally.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Duluth club will be held on Sunday evening. Action will be taken in reference to continuing the club in its present quarters.

Henry Truelsen's Talk About Benson Is Only to Catch Votes.

He Subscribed to the Fund to Get Benson a Medal.

Third Ward Fight For Alderman is a Pretty Hot One.

One of the greatest of all the boomerangs which Henry Truelsen has employed in this campaign to swing the labor vote into line for himself is the announcement which he has made with so much bluster that he and Job Benson cannot stay in the city hall together and that if he is elected he will be looking for a job in such a short space of time that he will not know what to do.

Mr. Truelsen's whole idea in announcing his manifesto against Benson was to carry favor with the laboring people, and he was as sincere in it as he has been in all the statements he has made in this campaign.

In making the spurge over Benson he has utterly failed on every occasion to call attention to the fact that when, a few years ago, after the big riots in which Benson gained the antagonism of the laboring people, a subscription paper was passed around to get money to reward Benson and the others Henry Truelsen promptly put his name on the paper and subscribed. Of the sum raised Benson got $100 and a gold medal was also given him.

Now how will Henry explain that? Mr. Allen's course has been entirely different. He did not announce with great accompaniment of Jingles that Benson would be bounced, but when asked the question he replied simply, quietly and in a dignified manner that if I am elected mayor, I will not keep Mr. Benson in office.

THE THIRD WARD.

Gordon and Rowley Are Fighting Hard.

The political situation in the Third ward has become warm. J. W. Rowley, the Republican candidate, is making a hard fight, with William D. Gordon as his closest competitor. The Rowley men are undying in their efforts in behalf of their candidate. Gordon is reaching the people through the medium of handbills. In addition to the handbills, the irrepressible auctioneer has several small dogs running around the streets wearing blankets inscribed with "Vote for Gordon."

R. Lerch, the liverman, cherishes the fond delusion that he is the race. He appears to be misled by his friends and is being misled by the race. The exposure of the graft the venerable grabber has been working at the city hall has lost him the few votes which he might have gotten. And he makes no denial, for he cannot.

POLITICAL MEETINGS.

Those Which Will Be Held Tonight and This Week.

Political meetings in the interest of S. D. Allen's candidacy for mayor will be held by the citizens' committee during the balance of this week, as follows:

Tonight at Central hall, on Twelfth avenue west. The speakers will be H. P. Greene, John Jensen, S. D. Allen, Morris Thomas and others.

Friday evening at the City Hall. The speakers will be H. P. Greene, John Jensen, T. J. McKoon and others.

NEATLY CAUGHT.

A Snow-Balling Youth Placed Under Arrest.

For several days during the noon hour the boys from the Jackson school have been in the habit of gathering on one side of the street, near Fifth avenue west and Second street, and pelting the passersby with pieces of ice and snowballs. This noon the usual gang of boys was engaged in this pastime when P. G. Peterson, a well known citizen, was struck several severe blows in the face by the boys, and stood dazed while the mischievous rascals ran.

Charles O. Baldwin observed the occurrence and gave chase to the boys, one of whom he captured, after a run of a block and a half. The youth was handed over to a policeman, while the crowd cheered and his successful efforts to stop the nuisance.

HAVE HEARD NOTHING.

A. Bailey Has Never Communicated With His Family.

For several days reports have been emanating from St. Paul to the effect that an alleged detective in the employ of the Bankers Life association had seen A. Bailey, who disappeared from Duluth nearly three years ago, in Argentina.

The rumor was further circulated to the effect that Mr. Bailey has communicated with his family in this city. The reports and specials sent out from St. Paul contain no direct information, but are insinuations, and are, therefore, cruel. The insurance company has not communicated in any way with Mrs. Bailey's attorneys. A Herald reporter called at Mrs. Bailey's residence today and she said:

"I am very much charged up so much newspaper notoriety. Mr. Bailey may be alive and in South America, but I do not believe it. However, when the insurance company desired time to make an inquiry of my attorneys, with my consent, had the case put off, and the company full opportunity to find out everything. If Mr. Bailey is dead, as I believe, I want the insurance money. It is alive I do not in the least desire it. One thing at least is certain; since Mr. Bailey left our home on the evening of Jan. 7, 1893, neither myself nor any member of my family, nor any friend of the family, has ever heard directly or indirectly of him. He is not in the least alive. I ask my friends and neighbors to suspend judgment until the truth can be established, whatever it may be."

Just before Gen. Johnston surrendered at Greensboro, N. C., his commissariat was so slim that it did not satisfy the hunger of some of his men, says the Warrenton Virginian. The commissariat was the plantations on the route of their retreat. They were stripped of everything eatable. Stringent orders were issued by Gen. Smith against this kind of independent foraging, and a strong provost guard was sent out to strip the dogs, skinned and cut it into such small pieces that it was impossible to tell what the animal was when it was alive. They then approached the camp in the direction they knew the provost guard would be captured. The meat (supposedly mutton) was sent up to Gen. Johnston's quarters, where it was in due time appeared on the general's table.

The story got abroad, and the next time there was a review on dress parade of Smith's brigade a soldier at one end of the line called out: "Who ate the dog?" The reply from the other end was "Gen. Smith," and the whole line broke into a "how-wow-wow," "how-wow," "how-wow."

TWO CHRISTMAS GIFTS.
Washington Post: This is something that happened last year—or perhaps it was the year before, or even the year before that. At any rate, it's just as good to be telling as if it were brand new. There is a man here whom Mother Nature, by way of recompensing him for the loss of his sight, has richly endowed with artistic abilities. That isn't in the story, you know, but it describes the man. One day the wife of his bosom said to him:

"My dear, I've bought you a lovely Christmas present."

"Where is it?" he asked.

"There," she answered: "It's a painting there on the wall."

"That evening he said to her, 'My dear, I've just been buying you a lovely Christmas present.'"

"Indeed," said she, "what is it?"

"An overcoat," was the answer: "I have it on."

NOT AFTER FISH.

Stewart Was After Copper But Got None.

Since the Stewart got back from Isle Royale yesterday, a couple of local papers have been filling space guessing at the number of half barrels of fish caught by her crew while she was away. The stories are credited to the people who were on the boat, but they do not affirm them. They acknowledge would like to know whose business that is. They claim that the copper being detected is just a rumor, and as such is open to anyone who wishes to get it and claim salvage on it. Of this they were assured before they went.

But they got no more copper than they did fish, for the weather was not favorable. Indeed, the man who finds that stormy spot when the weather is favorable is lucky, for when the wind blows from any direction, except the north, it is impossible to work. If the wind had been blowing in any direction except the northwest when the Centurion went on it would never have got away.

The Stewart made an attempt to anchor and work, but the sea was rolling mountain high all the fifteen days they were there and it was impossible. They could see the copper plainly, however. It lies piled up like cordwood on a flat surface in several feet of the ice and if the sea were smooth would be easy to get at.

The winter navigators of the Stewart are saying nothing, but it is understood that they have not yet abandoned the attempt to fish up the copper.

CUBAN HISTORY IN BRIEF.
Cleveland World: Spain colonized the island in 1492.

In 1521 and again in 1554 Havana was destroyed by the French.

Matanzas was the first city to fall into the hands of the insurgents.

Cruelty and injustice to the natives has always been the creed of the Spaniards.

In 1895 President Polk offered Spain $10,000,000 for the island, which offer was refused.

The present revolution began Feb. 24, 1895, when the republic was proclaimed by Marti.

The constitution of Cuba modeled on that of the United States, was adopted Sept. 2, 1895.

The revolution of 1895 lasted ten years before Spain was forced to compromise by promising reforms.

A triangular blue union, having a single star and five stripes, three of red and two of white, is the flag of the republic.

Very little reliable news of the present insurrection can be obtained, owing to the censorship of the press and the mortality of the leaders of both sides.

The first serious revolution took place in 1848, under the leadership of Narciso Lopez, who in 1851 repeated his attempts to free the island from Spanish control.

STRANGE FRENCH LAW.
The life of every dramatic author, as it is covered upon every French citizen the right to have a novel or play immediately suppressed by the police if his name happens to be mentioned in the news of the Pittsburg Dispatch. In their anxiety to avoid unpleasantness the owners of the Cliney theater decided to designate the characters in a recent piece numbers.

The efforts thus produced is somewhat peculiar, as, for instance:

"Ah, charming 32, you are the most adorable of women."

"And you are a flatterer, Count 18."

"While the two were thus exchanging compliments an elderly gentleman suddenly appears and calls out in a voice of anger:

"I have caught you now, Count 18! Are there any cowards in your family?"

"Gracious!" whispered Count 18, trembling in his shoes. "Gracious! Duke 32, Seventy-four," the duke exclaims, "turn this gentleman out!"

But at this point a fellow in the audience springs to his feet.

"That's really too bad!" he shouts in the direction of the stage. "I will send you a sumo."

The duke answers in surprise: "What have you got to complain of? Seventy-four is only a number."

"That's just it. It is the very number I was the year before, or even the year before that. At any rate, it's just as good to be telling as if it were brand new. There is a man here whom Mother Nature, by way of recompensing him for the loss of his sight, has richly endowed with artistic abilities. That isn't in the story, you know, but it describes the man. One day the wife of his bosom said to him:

Is it not—

And most enterprising newspaper published in Duluth?

By the company he keeps. If you see him speeding suburbanward or toward his city home with a copy of The Evening Herald outspread before him you involuntarily size him up as a man of discernment, of good judgment, of culture and of some means.

Why? For the same reason that you buy a good suit of clothes. It is the better economy.

The Evening Herald spends double the money to print a high-class newspaper than does any other paper in the city. That is why it is so valuable to the business man.

Then its tone is so pure that it is always a welcome visitor in the best homes. That is why merchants pronounce it

Board of Trade men and financial houses have learned to rely upon it because its columns are to be trusted.

It is an especial favorite. It "gets there" twelve hours ahead of the morning paper and has told the story of the day—complete in every particular—long before it arrives.

Is a delight. Containing, in addition to all the news, a resume of the musical, social, dramatic and literary gossip of the week that will always be found fresh and entertaining.

REFUTED

The Lie is Given to Another of Truelsen's Campaign Stories.

Allen Never Said a Union Man Could Not Be Believed.

That Story Was Completely Denied More Than Five Years Ago.

Among all of the charges which Henry Truelsen and his supporters have hurled at S. D. Allen in the vain hope of turning the labor vote against him, none is more absurd than the statement that he once said he would not believe a union man under oath. The time at which he is alleged to have said it was in 1891, when Joseph Dworschak was arrested, charged with assaulting one of the Chicago newsboys imported to take the place of the striking newsboys here. Mr. Allen was city attorney and prosecuted Dworschak, and he is alleged to have made the remark then.

The statement that he made that remark has been denied again and again. Mr. Allen denied it. C. O. Baldwin, who was Dworschak's attorney, denied it, and Judge Morris, before whom the case was tried, has denied it. The story was published in the "Union Workman" in October, 1891. D. J. Thompson was then editing that paper. Mr. Allen wrote the following communication, which was published at that time:

D. J. Thompson, Esq.,
Editor Union Workman,
Duluth, Minn.

Sir:—My attention has been called to the issue of your paper dated Oct. 31, 1891, in which paper in an article referring to the Dworschak trial occurs the following: "During the trial Mr. Allen volunteered several statements denigratory of union men, and among other things said that he would not believe a union man on oath." I do not suppose for a moment that you would knowingly misrepresent what actually occurred, and therefore I write to you to say that I did not make the statement attributed to me, nor did I in any way denounce unions or union men. On the contrary, I stated in the course of my remarks that united and systematic action on the part of laboring men to obtain just compensation for services and to secure reasonable hours of labor was not only proper, but under existing circumstances necessary. I further stated that I sympathized with these efforts, as well as with the efforts union men were making to suppress monopolies. These are sentiments that I have always avowed, but I did not and cannot allow these sentiments to control me in the least in the prosecution of any person.

I prosecuted Mr. Dworschak because I thought him guilty. I prosecuted him fairly and without any ill will toward him or towards the order to which he belongs, and I should feel bound to do the same again under similar circumstances. Yours,
S. D. Allen.

C. O. Baldwin also denied the statement in the same issue. It should be remembered that Mr. Baldwin was not then a partner of Mr. Allen's and did not become associated with him until two months later. The following is Mr. Baldwin's letter:

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 3, 1891.
D. J. Thompson,
Duluth, Minn.

Dear Sir:—In justice to Mr. Allen and to set you right in a matter in which you have evidently been misinformed, permit me to say in regard to the Dworschak trial, to which you refer in your paper of Oct. 31, that I was Mr. Dworschak's attorney at that trial; that I do not think Mr. Allen used the language or expressed the sentiments attributed to him in the article referred to, but on the contrary commented upon the advantages and necessities of unions under existing circumstances. Mr. Allen conducted the prosecution of the case with his usual vim and energy, and did during the course of the trial say that he did not believe Mr. Dworschak's evidence. While I sympathize with Mr. Dworschak and believe his evidence, and that instead of making an assault, as he was charged, he was attempting to preserve peace and defend a small boy against the assault of a larger one, still I consider it but fair to make the above statement, especially as I believe you have been misinformed in regard to the matter, and would not willfully misrepresent the facts. Yours very truly,
C. O. Baldwin.

This is Mr. Allen's answer and how does it compare with Truelsen's attitude on the Benson matter? He tries to hoodwink the laboring men by making about his great enmity for Benson, and yet he was one of the subscribers to get Benson a medal and give him a purse for his services in the riots in 1890. Why does he not deny this? It may be claimed that this is not an issue in the campaign, but who but Henry Truelsen raised it?

Another case of forgery came to light today, when H. Truelsen, a former employee of the Bethel, induced Daniel J. McKnight, a saloonkeeper, at 314 Lake avenue south, to cash a check, for $22.50, payable to himself, purporting to be signed by Treasurer L. Marvin, of the Bethel. McKnight discovered the check a forgery and meeting Truelsen in front of the Tremont hotel about 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, turned him over to Officer William Terry, by whom he was marched to the central station, where he made a confession.

Wheat Went Up With a Rush Owing to Higher Cables.

The Advance at Liverpool, Despite Yesterday's Decline Here, Did It.

Cash Wheat Sparingly Offered, Holders Waiting For Yet Higher Prices.

Wheat was on the jump again today. Cables came strong and higher and overshadowed all other influences. The opening was a surprise to the trade and sent the pit in a ferment. Yesterday the closing price of May at Chicago was 95¢ and at Liverpool 100¢. Today the price at Chicago was 96¢ and at Liverpool 101¢. The market was very active and the price advanced 1¢. The market was very active and the price advanced 1¢. The market was very active and the price advanced 1¢.

When any part of the body isn't doing the work that nature intended it to do, it puts the whole system out of tune—out of harmony. Sickness in one part of the body is likely to run into all parts of the body. When children stand a row of bricks on end, they knock the whole row down by upsetting one brick. That is exactly what happens to the health when the bowels fail to perform their proper function. Constipation makes trouble all along the line—puts the liver out of tune, it bad for the kidneys—bad for the stomach. It holds in the body poisonous matter, and because it cannot go to any place else, it gets into the blood. The blood carries it all over the system. That makes sluggishness, lassitude, bad health and foul taste in the mouth, fills the stomach with gas and causes windy belching, stops digestion in the stomach, causes sour stomach, heartburn and headache. You can avoid all such trouble, for Dr. Pare's Pleasant Purgative cures constipation and its attendant evils.

to had compared with yesterday's closing price and in the face of 3¢ per bus. decline here on the day before. The reason for the decline here was that the market was very active and the price advanced 1¢. The market was very active and the price advanced 1¢. ## THE WEATHER.

United States Agricultural Department, Weather Bureau, Duluth, Feb. 1.—The barometer at Duluth, which yesterday covered the Mississippi valley has moved to Lake Huron. A second depression is central north of Duluth, where the barometer
has fallen towards the north-west of an inch during the past twenty-four hours, with a northeast gale.
Light snows have occurred in the Dakotas,
Iowa, Wisconsin and Michigan.
The weather continues fair and clear.
Owing to interruption of telegraphic communication, reports from several districts are missing.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 20;
yesterday, 30; minimum yesterday, 20.
Local forecast for Duluth and vicinity
until 7 p. m. tomorrow: Fair; warm Sunday; west to south wind; Sunday;
northwest winds becoming variable.

JAMES KENNELLY,
Local Forecast Official.

Chicago, Feb. 1.—Forecast until 8 a. m.
tomorrow: Fair; warm; light rain; Sunday;
warmer in west portion tonight;
warmer Sunday; fair tonight and Sunday;
warmer in northeast portion tonight;
warmer in northwest portion Sunday;
northwest winds becoming variable.

THE FARMERS' RAILROAD.

Farm, Stock and Home, a weekly paper published at Minneapolis, which is edited by S. M. Owen, who was the Populist candidate for governor two years ago, says it is useless to build independent lines of railroad from Duluth
into the Red River valley, or, in fact,
anywhere else, and depend upon the people to raise the necessary money.
He gives two reasons for this assertion:
First, the people have no money to build railroads with, and in the second place, there is no demand for railroads;
there are enough in operation now.

The Crookston Tribune says: "This would be a very dangerous position for Mr. Owen to take, were he looking for votes for anything in this neck-of-the-woods. But he's not a candidate for anything now, and is perfectly safe in expressing monopolistic ideas."

It would be interesting to learn by what process of reasoning Mr. Owen arrived at the conclusion that there is no demand for railroads between Duluth and the Red River valley, when the whole Western country is ablaze with enthusiasm over the prospect of the Hines' road being constructed and the farmers are contributing money and labor to grade the road and are donating right-of-way for it over their lands. Mr. Hines claims, in the last number of the paper that he is publishing in the interest of the farmers' railroad, that six counties alone in the Red River valley are able to build the road.
He is not discouraged at the outlook,
but is confident that the necessary funds will be raised. Here is what he says on this point:

"We hear some ignorant people saying occasionally that farmers never raise half enough money to build a road.
The fact of the matter is that six counties alone—viz: Polk, Marshall,

Kittson, Grand Forks, Walsh and Pensina—are able to build 250 miles of road
at $10,000 per mile, and pay for it, without bonding it for one cent. In these counties we have our 20,000 acres of land and about 15,000 farmers. Now if these take one share of stock, at $100 for each quarter section, it would amount to $3,000,000, or enough to build 300 miles of road, at $10,000 per mile.
There are also other counties that will be almost equally benefited and that will assist in building this 300 miles of road. Add to this the support we will get from Duluth and Superior, and any fair-minded man or woman will admit at once that we are abundantly
able to build the farmers' road."

There is no doubt about the truth of the above statement. Mr. Hines, however, is in need of funds at present to get out the road and carry on grading operations and he has not received the financial support from Duluth that he has a right to expect. In view of the great benefit his road would be to this city,
The Herald trusts that the businessmen who undertook the raising of the fund of $5000 will lose no time in collecting this amount and placing it at the disposal of the farmers' railroad.
This is the time of year when the road should be cut, and as the season is well advanced no further time should be lost. Let the grading be completed, the ties laid and right-of-way obtained, and there will be no trouble about getting all the steel rails necessary to iron
the road.

MAKE THE VERDICT EMPHATIC.

What a contrast there is between the dignified, sober and thoughtful discussions of vital questions at the Allen meetings, and the hysterical appeals to passion and prejudice, the ranting and storming, against individuals and newspapers and the flood of vituperation and abuse, mingled with silly songs by absurd persons, which are the chief features at the Truelsen meetings. It is a striking contrast, which must impress every intelligent thinking voter and furnish complete evidence to him that the interests of the city would be promoted by the election of Mr. Allen and would be seriously injured by the election of Mr.
Truelsen.

The Herald has never said aught against Mr. Truelsen's honesty and integrity, but it has steadily asserted that he entertains ideas which are not in harmony with good government. His official record shows that he does not possess the qualities which are necessary to satisfactorily fill the office of mayor of Duluth during the next two years, when it is proposed to build a complete system of waterworks. The blunders which Mr. Truelsen made while chairman of the board of public works have been the subject of several articles in these columns, and they have shown that the city suffered very much from the serious mistakes which he made in the case of several large public improvements. At a time when the city is about to spend over $1,000,
in constructing a water plant, it would be dangerous to place the administration of the mayor in the hands of a man who has committed such serious mistakes of judgment. Mr. Truelsen's intentions are doubtless good, but his judgment is very bad. His official record proves the latest fact, and the people have no correct way of estimating
his fitness or unfitness for the mayoralty, save by his past record in other positions.

The business men of Duluth; the taxpayers, both large and small; the laboring men who own their little homes
and are struggling to attain a modicum of competency and better the condition of themselves and their families—
all are vitally interested in securing an honest, economical city administration. Taxes are high. Many people are burdened by assessments for public improvements by which they have been adjudged benefited. To increase their burdens would plunge
many into bankruptcy and financial ruin and saddle upon them a debt from which they could never free themselves. Mr. Truelsen's entire record as a city official leads to the inevitable
conclusion that his administration would be marked by extravagant methods and serious blunders. His money shows that he has no proper appreciation of the city's financial condition. The rash promises that he is ready to make in order to catch the votes of easily deluded people furnish irrefragable evidence that he is utterly unfit for the office of mayor.

On the other hand, Mr. Allen has demonstrated by his able, sound and conservative speech to the people with whom he resides his case that he fully appreciates the city's condition and the great responsibility that will be placed upon the mayor during the coming two years. Mr. Allen stands up on a platform which declares unqualifiedly in favor of an economical administration. It will be his object, if elected, to reduce the running expenses of the city to the lowest point consistent with efficiency. He recognizes the necessity of lessening the burden of taxation as far as possible, and any measure that tends to increase the taxes of the people, unless for some urgent object, will find in him an unyielding opponent. Mr. Allen has placed himself on record as opposed to opening up new streets and inaugurating other public works that are not absolutely required, and by pursuing this policy he will prevent any increase in the already heavy burdens of the people, who are struggling to retain the houses which represent their sole possessions. With Mr. Allen as mayor, the citizens will feel assured that the building of the new water plant will be pushed as rapidly as possible, and that every dollar appropriated for this purpose will be wisely expended.

The Herald confidently believes that Mr. Allen will be elected by a good majority on Tuesday next, because it has faith in the good judgment of the people and their determination to select the best man to conduct the city's business. But let not over-confidence cause any supporter of Mr. Allen to remain away from the polls. His majority should be made as large as possible.
The effect of an emphatic popular verdict will be highly beneficial, so far as the building of the new water plant is concerned. It will strengthen the hands of Mr. Allen and the council in effecting the necessary financial arrangements to carry on the work. The welfare of the city demands Mr. Allen's election by a rousing majority.

EVENING PAPERS LEAD.

Henry W. Hawley, who was formerly owner of the Denver Times and later was part proprietor of the Chicago
Times and then interested in the Times-Herald until James W. Scott's death, is now in California on a tour, in which he is combining business and pleasure.
In an interview printed in the San Francisco Call Mr. Hawley paid the following tribute to evening newspapers: "As for the newspapers in the towns and cities of the Middle West, those occupying the evening field have become as a rule a larger circulation,
more influence and are more profitable
than the morning papers."

Mr. Hawley speaks from a lengthy experience in the newspaper field. He has had excellent opportunities for ascertaining the facts upon which he bases this opinion. In Chicago, the News exceeds in circulation and profit;
in Milwaukee, the Evening Wisconsin takes the lead; in Minneapolis, the Journal is easily the greatest in circulation and influence, and here in Duluth
it is an acknowledged fact that the Herald is the leading newspaper, being ahead in circulation and influence. All these are evening papers and their position supports Mr. Hawley's statement.

A PROPHECY FULFILLED.

The News Tribune of yesterday contained the following: "The Saturday Herald is able to keep up with the times. It will be a complete newspaper.
It will give all the latest news and in addition there will be numerous special local stories of interest and many other articles in these columns."

For once the News Tribune has proven itself a reliable prophet. The prediction which it made yesterday has been fulfilled. Glance over the Saturday Herald this evening and behold a complete newspaper, with all the latest news and with interesting articles of local interest. It will be many months before the News Tribune or any other Duluth paper is able to keep up with the Herald. But the News Tribune, set by the Herald, but the News Tribune will do the best it can, under the circumstances—it will republish tomorrow morning most of the news that appears in The Herald this evening.

CHRONIC OFFICE SEEKERS.

Mr. Truelsen is in the habit of explaining how he has been holding public office for years by saying that he was always pushed forward against his will.
He never sought an office, but the office
was always chasing him through the streets and alleys and in the present case he is able to get away from it.
This recalls a story that the late Secretary Windom once related in a public speech in the southern part of the state.
Mr. Windom was referring to a man who had been in office for years, and badly as Mr. Truelsen has it. His case reminded Mr. Windom of the story about a calf. Its owner could not persuade it to suck and finally pulled its ears off and it was never able to make it take hold. This he had to do hard a job to make it quit sucking, and the result was that in his effort to make it let go he pulled its tail off.

What a rethor performance that must have been at the Postoffice hall Thursday night, when the Truelsen troupe of acrobatic actors performed in conjunction with the presidential succession
in the presidential election. The troupe mentioned better equipped for the task, a trained legislator and eminent jurist, a man of broad grasp and living mind, in maintaining conclusions of deep research and political action—he was the only one who was not exhausted and with a warm sympathy to his audience, he was the only one who was not exhausted. He was the only one who was not exhausted. He was the only one who was not exhausted. He was the only one who was not exhausted. He was the only one who was not exhausted. He was the only one who was not exhausted. He was the only one who was not exhausted.
Oh, it was a rare performance, and it was free!

Ex-Congressman Sommers, of Milwaukee, was present at the hearing of the section 20 case at Washington. This is the gentleman to whom, rumor says, Auditor Dunn has given a state lease on the valuable iron property to which the state lays claim. It would be interesting to learn by what authority he issued a lease on lands to which the state has not acquired title?

Every Republican, every Democrat and every Populist who desires an honest, economical municipal government should vote for Mr. Allen.

Every business man should vote on Tuesday next, and he should vote for Mr. Allen, under whose direction the city will be governed wisely and economically.

ACROSS THE TEA TABLE.

February is a month which should bear a special significance to every true American, whether counting our country as birth place or home. The month which gave us George Washington, "the father of our country." We are getting far enough away from the circumstances which made "these United States" an individual nation to appreciate the splendid sequence of events which enabled the men of '76 to "proclaim liberty to all the world," and to reverence the character, nobility and self-sacrifice of those who stood a faithful hand next to Washington, aiding, strengthening and cheering him
by every means in their power. Surrounded by them, he towers above them, "the strongest because the best balanced, the fullest-rounded, the most even and most self-masterful of men—incarnation of common sense and moral purity of action and repose."
When every American mother feels the abounding necessity of teaching her children patriotism, and the blessings of American liberty, when every American woman is not only thoroughly grounded herself in the history of her country, but is able to teach and inculcate the principles of American institutions; when those who find a privilege, duties and responsibilities and are taught to revere the character of the true American, the equally great and grand—Washington,
who gave us our country, and Lincoln,
who saved it for us—then shall our republic live as long as human life and the noblest and most enlightened and best on the face of the earth.

The variety theaters have reason to protest against the Truelsen combination being permitted to draw away their audience. Why should not the Truelsen variety show also pay a license?

Mr. Towne appears to have incurred the enmity of Editor Pease, of the Andover Union. Talk about "Cleveland luck," why it is nothing, when compared to Mr. Towne's luck.

Mr. Truelsen has skillfully avoided any discussion of the great questions before the people, and has devoted his campaign to appeals to passion and prejudice.

What did Billy Shakespeare ever do that John Brown should drag him into
this campaign?

The weather bureau has evidently a limited stock of cold waves on hand this season.

FALL FOR SOME ONE.

Morris Tribune: Although it is rather early for predictions, yet we hardly pick up a paper in this city but which predicts a fall for some one. "Honest
Well, there is no use talking, gentlemen, somebody must fall. There will be a heavy third about convention time, and three more. We can all see, and which will be elected is almost as deep a mystery
as the velvet beyond."

WHAT HINDS ROAD WOULD A
wheat from Minneapolis to Duluth for 2 miles by the Farmers' road. It would be bought from Grand Forks and St.
Thomas, or a saving of 4 cents a bushel,
which would amount to $100 on each quarter section of land. One farmer at Warren has been offered $1000 for the year, and it would have saved him $800,
if a fourth of the year's crop should take
this road.

NO SATISFACTORY ANSWER.

Little Falls Herald: The Duluth Herald
has been asked to answer the question, "What is the name of the man who has been elected to the U. S. Senate?"
The answer is: "No one."

The Dutch club has decided to pay no attention whatever to the malignant criticisms of the hospital which came from St. Paul from members of the Dutch club. It did not dare allow the use of their names. Coming as these criticisms do from the Dutch club, the only resource, the only course open to the club is to pay no attention whatever to them. The Dutch club has a review of the large number of favorable criticisms which have been received from the members of the Dutch club of the association. St. Paul, Winnipeg, Wausau and nearly all the cities receive letters or newspaper clippings denying in toto any connection whatever with the hospital. The club has put themselves on record as being perfectly satisfied with everything about the hospital and the few who wish some of them criticized.

Next week the Dutch club will take up its work of training candidates for next season's crews. There are an estimated 100,000 number of promising candidates in the field.

Jimmy Murphy, after a long period of inaneuous desuetude, has again thrown down the gauntlet and signed articles for a finish fight with one Billy Patterson, a well known prizefighter, in the vicinity three weeks from date. The victory will be for $25 and gate receipts. Patterson is from California and is said to be a clever fighter.

1936 Females in
Live Eggs

"I was out there, and my troubles all arose in trying to fill that egg. It is the first time I ever attempted to market any eggs, and I says I would not make just so good a mother and live birds for my profit. This is the laying and hatching season now, and I thought I would have a try to get eggs enough to fill the rooster. Now a hen, you know, will let you take her out of her nest, just so you have one egg. It is supposed a hen has a whole mind of her own. But this is not true. Judge Joe Goode is bound up to his ears."

"The first three days we secured a big batch of fresh eggs, but after that the 'hen' began to dwindle down so fast I let her rest a little more, just so you investigation. I went down to the river outlet next day, and found that instead of eggs, she had a whole brood of little chicks that were not sitting, had hatched and were crawling about feeding, just as if they never expected to lay any more eggs. When I reached them, instead of running away, they all sat down and began to hiss at me."

"It was a clear case of strike down, and I was at a loss to know how to settle the trouble. I took her out of the nest, and the coral-egg eggs in each nest, but I did not work. The eggs came up, and eggs were laid. I took her out of the nest. Then, I decided, I told the boys to put the eggs with all gathered back and see if that would do any good."

"Well, sir, inside two hours after the eggs were returned every loose on the eggs was laid. I took her out of the nest. There were more eggs laid on the eggs, and then I took her out of the nest. I told the boys to put the eggs with all gathered back and see if that would do any good."

AN EXPENSIVE BOOK.

On the steamship Speed, which arrived a few days ago, says the New York World, there was imported a thin little volume of only eight pages.

Not all of these are now to be found. The appraised value of which was $200. This is a Latin translation of a letter written by Christopher Columbus, giving a report of his discovery of what he supposed to have been only some islands off the coast of Spain.

Plannock, a painter of Home struck off a few copies of the translation in 1492. Not all of these are now to be found.

In the barlow sale of Americana, at the American Museum of Natural History, a copy of the Plannock edition, identical with the one that came on the Speed, was sold to Braxton for $200.

There is a dispute among the authorities as to whether or not the edition of the British museum, advances are made to the priority of date of the publication of Columbus' report.

Harlowe stoutly maintains that this Plannock edition is the third appearance of the letter, while R. H. Major, of the British museum, advances arguments, said to be both logical and weighty, to show that it is the first.

Ellis, in the Huth catalogue, claims that Major has proved his impression to be the first. John Russell Bartlett gives this particular edition first in the John Carter Brown library.

But, however much the antiquarians may disagree among themselves, there is no doubt as to the great value of the book, which is printed in clear type on heavy paper. The dimensions of the pages are 7 1/2 inches "full" by 5 1/2 inches. The cover is of leather, and the device being a pair of scales. If ordered in the World the letter would occupy about a column and two-thirds.

THE HARLEQUIN SNAKE.

One of the most curious snakes in the large collection at the Zoological gardens, in this city, is the harlequin snake. This is the first printed edition of the letter, while R. H. Major, of the British museum, advances arguments, said to be both logical and weighty, to show that it is the first.

INDIGESTION AND RENDERS SLEEP IMPOSSIBLE.

Is now happily exploited, says the Canada Lancet. It is not good, as a matter of fact, to go to bed with the stomach so loaded that the undigested food will produce one restless, but something of a palatable nature in the stomach is one of the most common causes of sleeplessness.

Some physicians have declared, indeed, that the stomach is the cause of sleeplessness. It is the result of an unconscious craving of the stomach for food in persons who have been unduly frightened by the opinion that they must not eat before going to bed, or who have, like many nervous women, been keeping themselves in a state of semi-starvation. Nothing is more agreeable on retiring for the night than to take a bowl of hot milk, or a cup of oatmeal or cream soup. It is a positive aid to sleep, and it is especially useful in the case of women who are suffering from indigestion.

SMUGGLER

Fleetwing Outsails the United States Revenue Cutter Pinta Easily.

How the Owners Secured a Hearty Laugh on the Officials.

Contraband Whisky Cashed and Lugged Loaded With Bacon and Beans.

"The ordering, last week, of the United States steamer, Adams to Alaska to relieve the Pinta recalls an incident in the early career of the latter vessel in northwestern waters, which at the time made the steamer and her officers the laughing stock of the coastwise sailors," said J. B. Simpson at the Perkins hotel last evening, says the Portland (Ore.) Telegram.

"The Pinta is one of three vessels built by the government for use as cowboats, but, finding them lacking in power and speed, the upper works of the steamers were rebuilt and armed with a pivot rifle forward and two muzzle-loading 22-pounders, the three were sent off to isolated stations to do guard duty, the Pinta going to Alaska.

"After a long trip around the Horn, arriving at different South American ports for coal, the new man-of-war had heard of her being sent to relieve the Jamestown, and the appearance of a strange steamer laboriously making her way through the channel at about a four-knot gait excited considerable comment. After she had been docketed and her mission learned, an inquiry was made as to her low speed. No one was informed by the men that her bottom was a veritable garden, grass a yard long growing over clusters of branches in chaotic depth, the result of the vessel's stoppages in South American waters.

"Well, the commander of the Pinta declared himself in short order. After an inspection of the saloons in Juneau he called several of the leading lights of the camp to him and demanded to know where in the whisky came from to keep these crochets going, seeing there was a law prohibiting the importation of any liquor into the territory. Of course, the answer was that the saloons and they all sold whisky, but how it reached the camp the out-of-phibition had not even a vague idea. The representative of the government resumed his investigation, and discovered that most of the liquor sold was one good, that is, put in bottles. The bottles bore the labels of Heurich and Martell brandy, Scotch Highland whisky, and other well-known English brands. With care conscientiously the commander figured out that these goods must come from some Hudson Bay trading post. Consulting his chart, he found that Port Simpson on Foulke bay was the nearest port, also to reach Juneau the smugglers must come through St. Lawrence passage. This channel is about seven miles wide, and a sail can be seen for miles. With this information stored under his hat, the commander of the Pinta announced that he proposed putting a stop to smuggling. He would patrol St. Lawrence passage and bring every craft heading for Juneau, and if whisky was aboard confiscation would result.

"At that time Rich Proctor was the most daring and successful smuggler in Alaska. Starting with a canoe, he had made enough money to go to Victoria and purchase the lugger-armed yacht Fleetwing, a very witch at sailing.

"Proctor, with the lugger was away after a cargo of contraband when the Pinta arrived at Juneau, and knew nothing of the commander's proclamation. He was placed on his guard by the steamer's excited dragoon, and he was warned with a 'hyas mimaluce' (this gun or cannon) mounted forward, assuring him that he was a very close guard on his return trip, sailing only by night and having by in some sheltered cove during the day. However, on reaching Chatham Island, Juneau, Proctor concluded that the man-of-war had taken up her station at Juneau, and he had nothing to fear until the steamer changed, on which Juneau lies, was reached.

"With this idea he got under way and by night was off Chatham straits. The wind had hauled ahead, and the Fleetwing was making long stretches across the channel, when, towards morning, the lights of a steamer were made out. Proctor knew it must be the man-of-war, and with the next tack ran the ship into Sandbar bay, anchoring with a slip on the cable, in a cove behind Whaler's Point.

"Along came the Pinta slowly towing the steaming growth on her bottom through the water. Sandbar bay was passed, and the steamer proceeded on down the channel. Here was Proctor's canoe, as he thought. Shipping the cable, the smuggler stood out into the stream, making a long reach for the opposite shore, but he had not figured on powerful night binoculars. The after lookout on the Pinta sighted the white sail of the lugger through the darkness and gave the alarm. Slowly the man-of-war moved round and headed up the channel, the man-of-war consuming fully twenty minutes. By this time a distance of nearly four miles separated the two vessels, and the government vessel, but the pivot rifle was good for that distance, and a round shot went skimming over the waves toward the Fleetwing, going wild, however. Proctor at once came about and stood over toward the mainland again. The wind had stiffened to a half gale, the lugger heeling over until her lee rail was buried in a smother of foam and she was going through the water at a snail's pace. This was a bad omen, but it was bad for a craft that was being made a target of the photographing glare of the flying searchlight. At first the rocketed along ahead, but when she was within a few minutes of the chase, but the Fleetwing did not propose being sunk by each minute the scudding craft drew away from her pursuer until at last the shot, with a whistling swirl, struck the lugger, and she was out of range.

"Proctor had by this time reached, under the precipitous cliffs and indicated boys of the mainland. Making short jacks in the dark shadows of the abrupt cliffs, he was taking advantage of every inlet to keep out of sight, the lugger reaching a point opposite the head of Douglas lake.

"Eight or ten miles down the channel could be seen the lights of the Pinta. From the manner in which the lugger had overreached the government steamer in churning up the channel, Proctor figured by a bold dash across the Takou inlet he could reach Douglas lake and have fully two hours' time to unload and cache his cargo before the Pinta could come up.

"One more tack so as to have plenty of leeway, and with her sheet started a little free, the Fleetwing drove across the intervening space of water as though she knew the safety of her owner depended on her actions. Dropping in case to the beach, Proctor and his two men set to work as only men can when danger is near. In an hour every ounce of the barrel was out of the hold and stowed in the bottom-houses, which marks the grave of some thirty thousand dollars' worth of goods. The name of the lugger was changed to the name of Mimaluce Head to the point. Hurrying back to the lugger, the hand sails and peak of the mainsail were again hoisted, and with the wind over the quarter, the Fleetwing tore down St. Lawrence channel to an anchorage off Juneau.

"It was just breaking day and the camp had not aroused to life, but in the Arctic saloon an all-night game of trip-hat was still in progress. Quickly the players were informed of the chase and cache. As quickly the clerk of the trading store was awakened, and in half an hour four canoes were busy stowing the hold of the Fleetwing with boxes of bacon, sacks of beans and flour and canned goods. In the meantime the clerk was making out a bill from the Hudson Bay company against the Northwest Trading company for the value of the stores aboard the lugger.

"An hour later and a boat from the Pinta boarded the Fleetwing. The door of the companion-way leading to the cockpit was locked, but the officer in command of the boat heeled no locks, and from the shore Proctor and the gamblers could see the blue jackets disappearing below. A short distance off the man-of-war with the pivot rifle rimmed on the lugger and her marine guard mastered forward.

"After an interval the officer and his men reappeared on deck, and, entering their boat, pulled back to the Pinta. There was evidently a consultation on board the man-of-war, and then the boat went off for the beach.

"Approaching the group standing on the sands, the officer demanded: 'Who owns that ship?' 'She's mine,' replied Proctor. 'Did you sail her last night?' 'Not a word,' replied Proctor. 'What do you mean by not having to when fired on with solid shot?' 'Well, you see the boys needed their bacon and beans powerful bad,' drawled Proctor, 'and as I hadn't heard of any excitement in these waters carrying cannon, I was afraid yer was a pirate or some such like. I kivered in sailing yer solid shot, as yer calls them, didn't come within a mile of the lugger, noways.' 'Then there was nothing left for the lieutenant to do but to return and report; but the laugh that went up through Alaska when the story got about effectively put a stop to any further attempts to suppress the liquor traffic on the part of the Pinta's commander.'

A KRUPP PLAN.

Training School for Girls Established at Essen.

Germany is foremost in her scientific research relative to the science of nutrition. Her experiments have been carried on for many years, as also investigation of the conditions of living, with reference especially to income and expenditure of the poor classes, says the New York Sun. In many localities where weaving is the main industry, investigations have uncovered startling ignorance. The combined earnings of the family do not exceed 20 marks a year, about $7. As a class they are extremely weak, very few of them being able to do farm work. They eat meat rarely, and beer is considered a luxury. Their main diet is bread, with potatoes, and the course in their physical condition shows a lack of muscular energy, the women generally being the stronger of the sexes.

It is to uplift these people and others like them that Germany has introduced her training schools for young girls. True philanthropists that they are, will serve as an illustration of what the Germans are doing to improve the condition of the masses. In one of these schools, Messrs. Krupp, of Essen, the leading merchants of the place, employ some 15,000 men and women in their steel works. The city, in fact, depends mainly upon this enormous industry. True philanthropists that they are, Messrs. Krupp have recognized the importance of bettering the life of the food supply, and a more intelligent expenditure of small incomes. They have established the Krupp training school, a model institution of its kind.

The girls' training school has for its object general education and instruction in those things pertaining to the care of the household and the duties of wife and mother. The course in these latter branches lasts for three months, management of the kitchen, garden, washing, ironing, and the duties of darning, and all kinds of housework. In food economy pupils are taught the quantity of materials required for a given number of persons and how much should be prepared for each meal. Each pupil is expected to provide for ten others for a number of days. She must keep an exact account of what is used for each meal and the cost and quantities of the several materials employed. At the end of the course each girl prepares her own account book, which makes a valuable guide for her life.

In an hour every ounce of the barrel was out of the hold and stowed in the bottom-houses, which marks the grave of some thirty thousand dollars' worth of goods. The name of the lugger was changed to the name of Mimaluce Head to the point. Hurrying back to the lugger, the hand sails and peak of the mainsail were again hoisted, and with the wind over the quarter, the Fleetwing tore down St. Lawrence channel to an anchorage off Juneau.

then." "The 'old man' took several whiffs from his pipe and said nothing. Just he gravely remarked: 'Well, show me your better good yourself dead.'

LOST BY DELAY.
Boston Transcript: Richard—"I had a great dream last night. Thought I went into the office of a millionaire. After sitting down and talking about one thing and another, he said to me: 'Young man, I like your appearance, and I want to do something for you. I'm going to give you $10,000. How would you like to run any risks, you know, and so I said I'd take the cash. If it was all the same to him, 'All right,' he said, and went off to get the money; but as luck would have it, I woke up before he got back."

MONKEY AND PIGSKIN.
Peggy, a Simian, Had a Good Deal of Fun.

A novel game of football between a monkey and half a dozen boys was played yesterday afternoon on Camp street, between Preston and Floyd, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. The game was purely an accident, and was easily won by the monkey. The animal belongs to the Hoboken variety, and is the property of Dr. Felix L. Oswald. The game was played on the beach of the city, and the boys, who were playing the game, were introduced to the monkey in a curious manner. They were playing the game when the monkey took a hand. She had released herself from her cage in the excitement of moving, and had escaped from the house. After climbing about a shed in the rear of the house and on the roof for awhile, familiarizing herself with the surroundings, she climbed into a tree. Suddenly she spied the boys kicking and throwing a ball at each other.

Peggy, the monkey, was an interested spectator. For a few minutes she sped up and down the trunk of the tree in excitement. One of the boys kicked the ball and it settled under the tree. Peggy had learned the game to her satisfaction by this time. She clambered down the tree and seized the ball so high over her head as she could and hurled it at the boys. They watched her from a safe distance while she carried the ball, and when she had thrown it down the street with it, then she stopped and showed that she was heart and soul in the game by throwing it at the boys. They saw by this time that the monkey was not to be trifled with.

As the ball rolled away she ran and caught it and threw it at the boys. They saw by this time the boys entered into the spirit of the play, and for about fifteen minutes "Peggy" had the game as she willed. Evidently feeling that the boys were having too much fun at her expense, "Peggy" got the ball and ran up the tree with it under her arm, and sat there grinning and chattering for about five minutes. The boys tried to coax her down, but she refused to come. Then one of the boys started to climb the tree. "Peggy" watched him with a look of interest on her face as he ascended. When a spur of clear branches was presented between him and her, "Peggy" lifted the ball as high over her head as she could and hurled it at the boy's head as she would have thrown a coconut in her native forest.

Dr. Oswald discovered the loss of "Peggy" at this point, and opened the door and called her in.

HAD AN ARMY CONTRACT.
Passing along Prince street, Edinburgh, one day, a herculean Scott Grey stopped and called a shoe black to polish his boots, says Scottish Nights. The feet of the dragoon were in proportion to his height, and the boy looking at the tremendous boots before him, knelt down on the pavement, and called upon a chum near at his hand.

"Jamie, come over and give a hand, will ye? I've got an army contract."

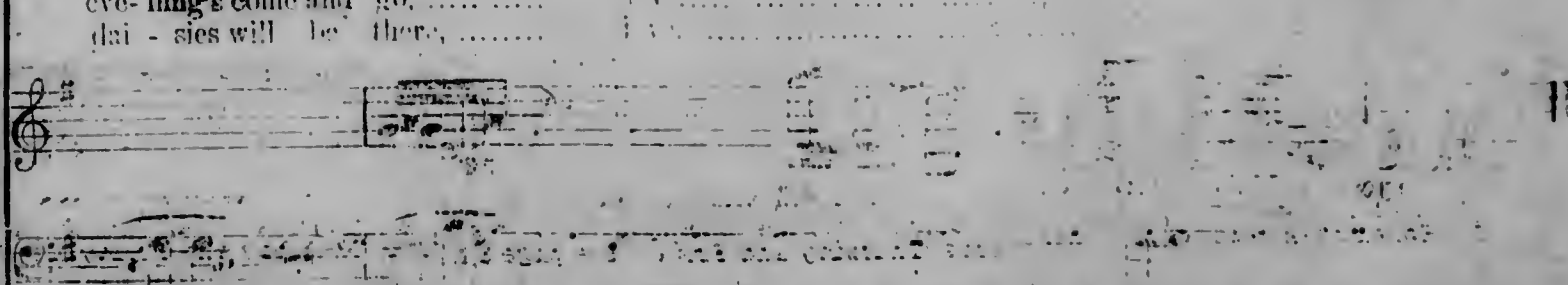

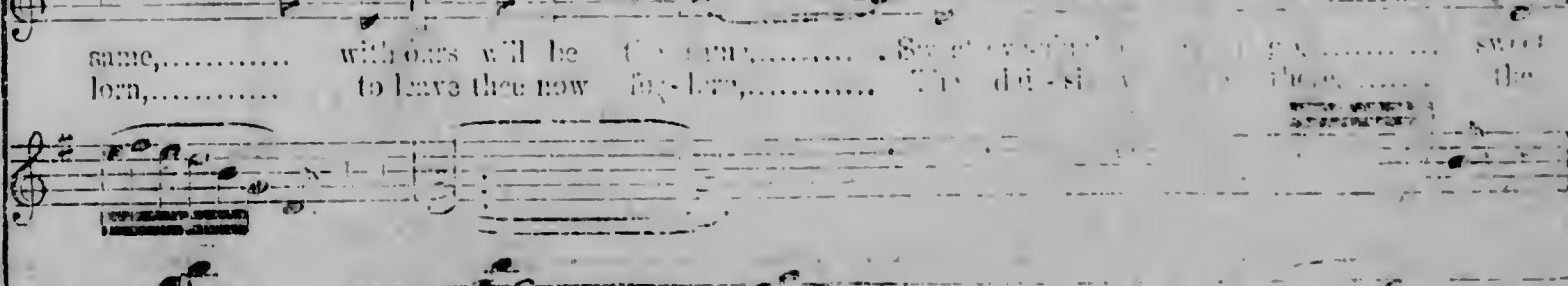

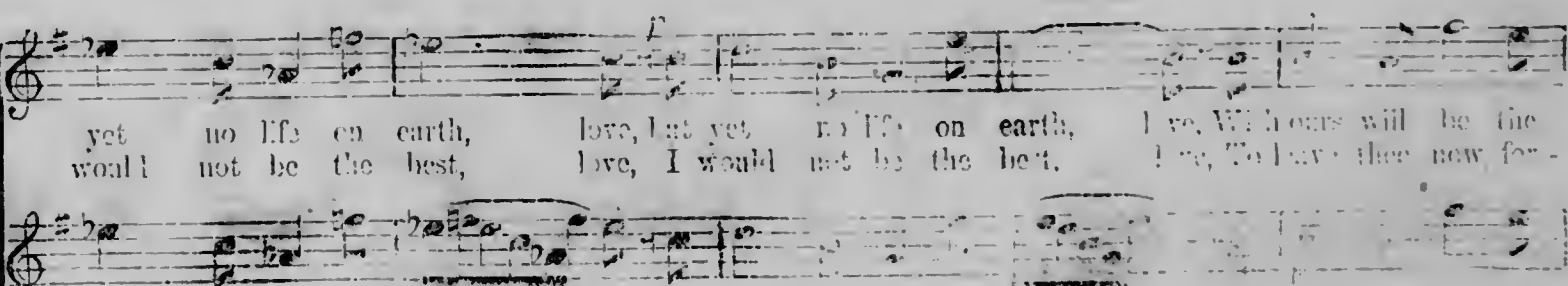

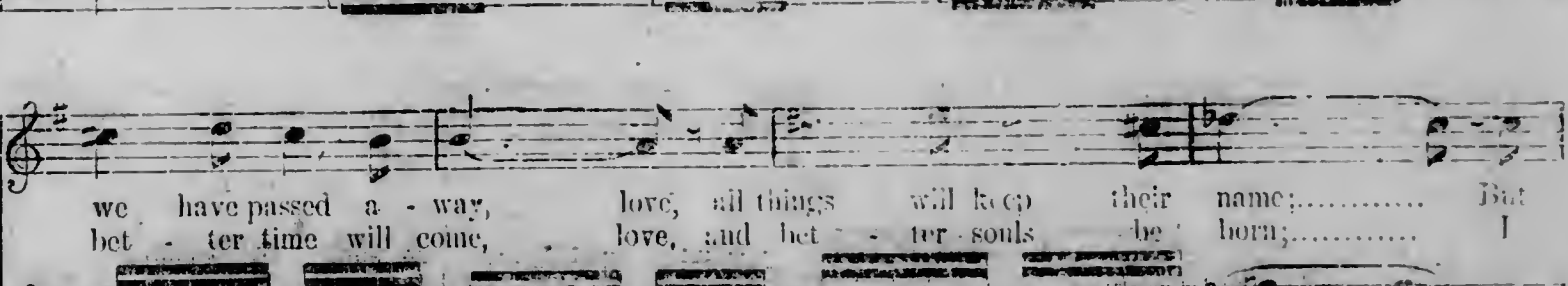

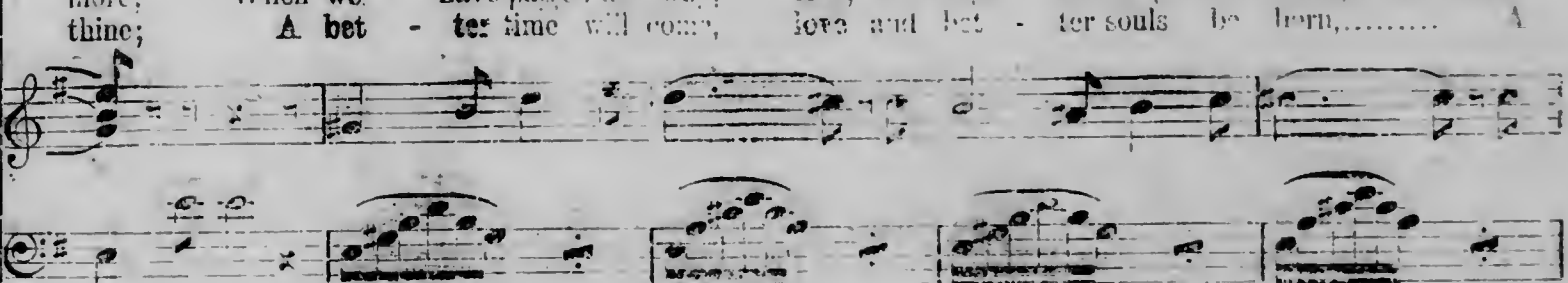

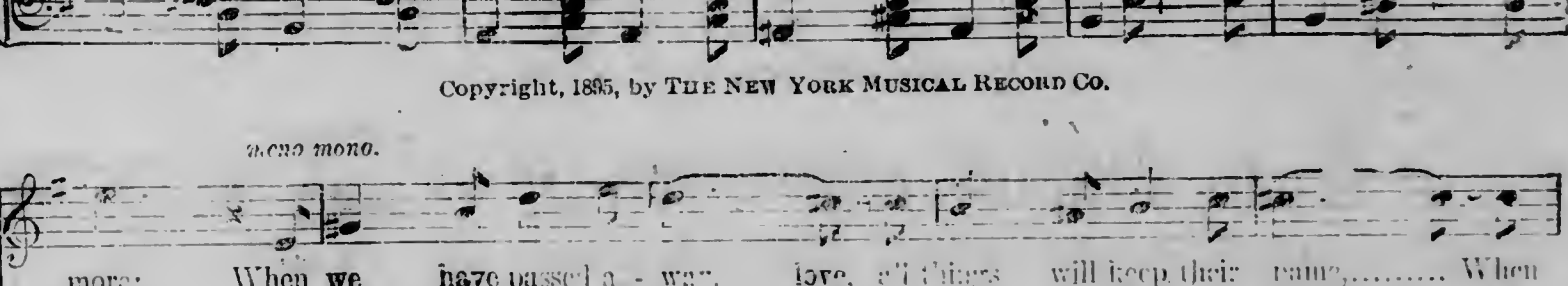

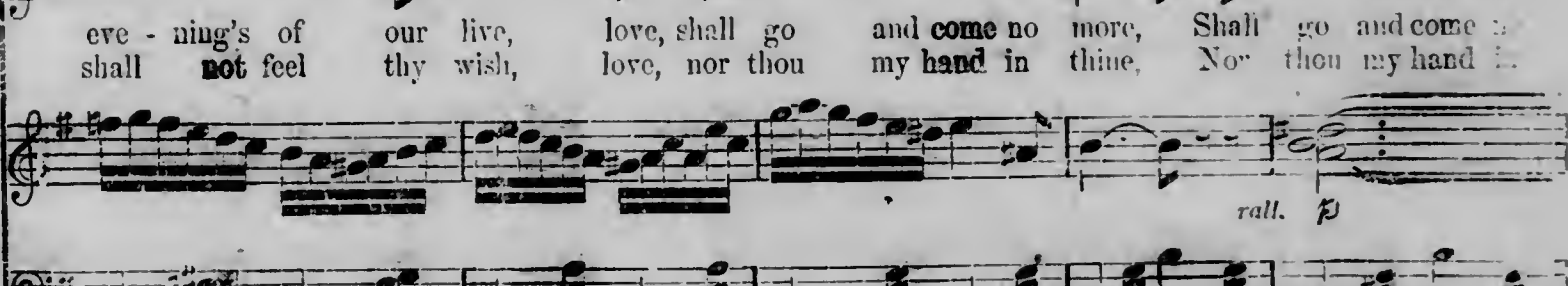

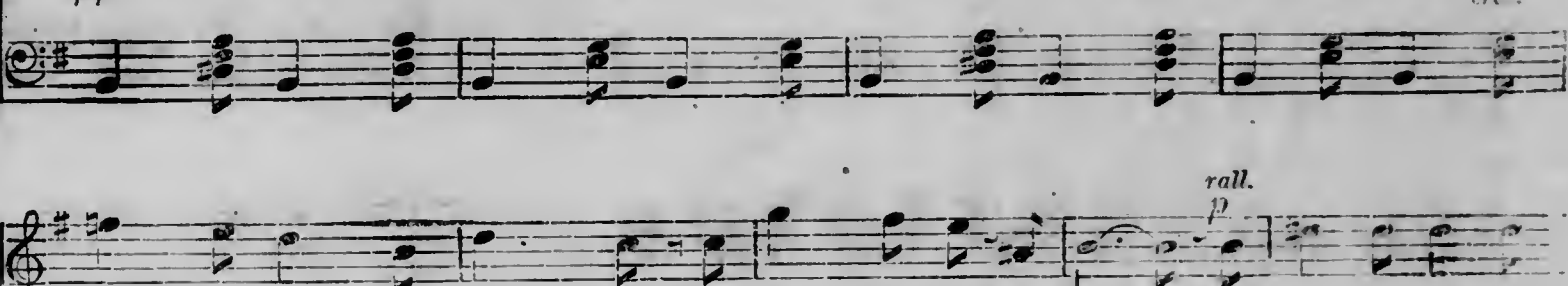

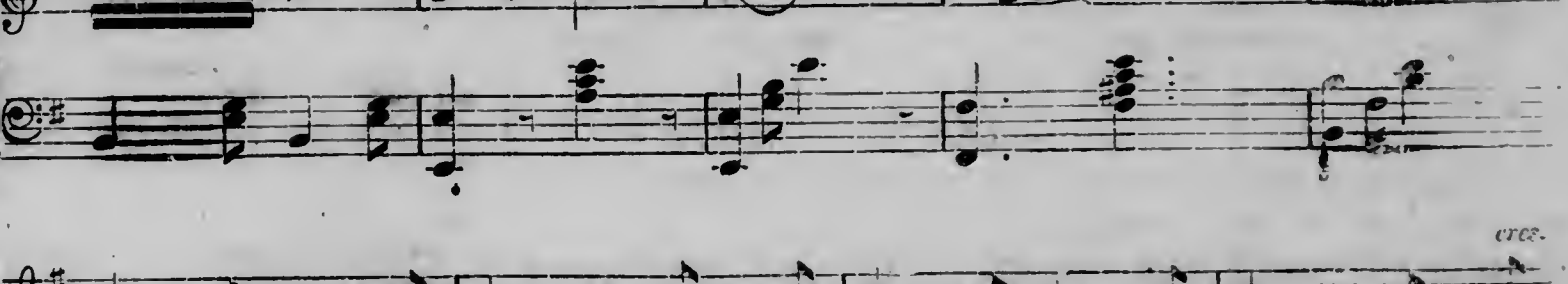

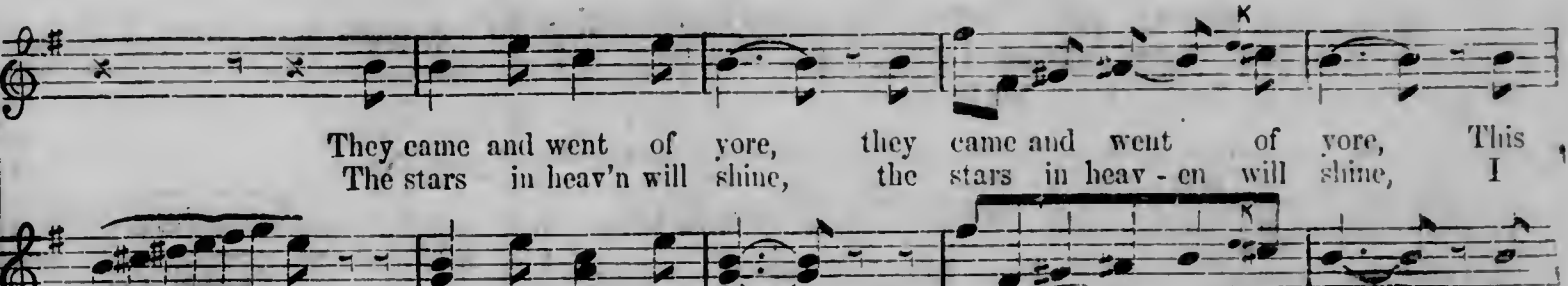

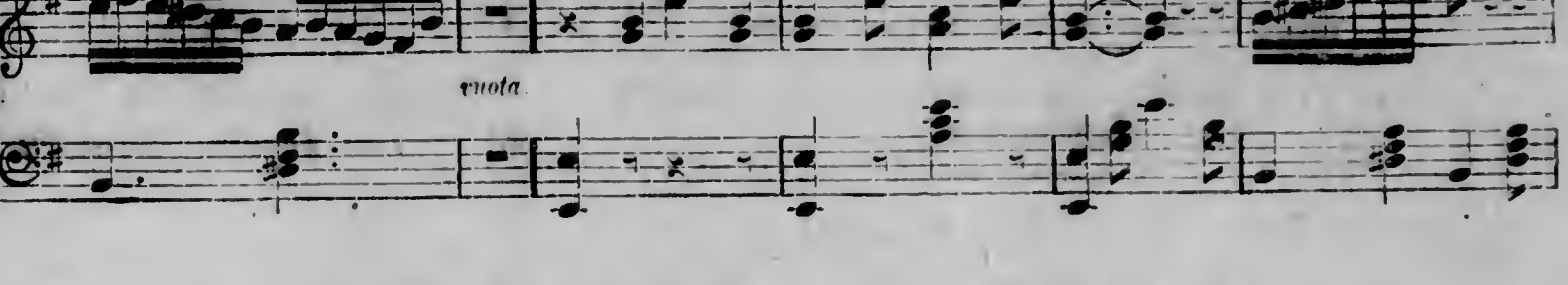

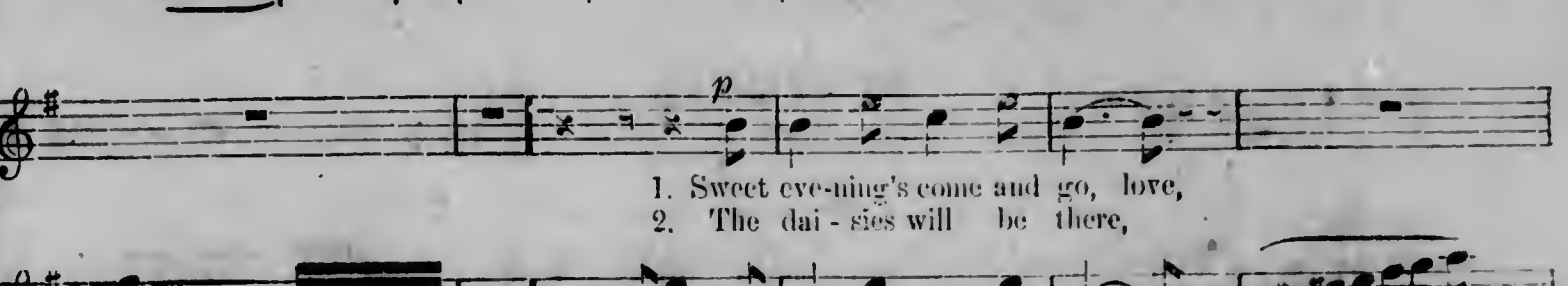

HOW HE FELT.
Washington Star: "What makes you look at the drinking water so sadly?" asked a man of a woman who was drinking. "I didn't know that I did so," was the answer, "but if I did it was with good reason. I think you could not get along without me."

"Is that so?" exclaimed the German. "Mein Gott! Show me what I do against you, and you will see that I am not a poor man." "Well," hesitated John, "I suppose you would have to get along without me."

MR. TRULSEN'S RECORD.

Facts For the Workmen and Taxpayers.

Mr. Truelsen claims that if elected he will have the water plant built by day's work. He knows he is promising what he cannot do. When chairman of the board of public works he had power to cause the forfeiture of contracts to be finished by day's work. He did not do it or try to do it. Can you believe his recent promises? He condemned the contractor between the police and strikers in 1893, and says he would not relate to the police force in that affair upon the police force. At the time of the strike he approved the course of the police and contributed to a fund to buy them medals. What do you think of his change? As chairman of the board of public works he superintended Piedmont avenue in such an extravagant way that $30,000 was lost to the city. He spent $20,000 foolishly over plans for building tunnels, and was willing to give in the city water plant to make Minnesota Point into railroad yards. He was so mad because the court did not think the assessment he made for Chester Park correctly made that he refused to make another, and the city never collected the amount proposed to be assessed $20,000. The water plant cannot be built unless money can be secured from financial men. The East, if Allen is elected as mayor and the Republican council backed as they are by the Republican party, its strength and its platform and the influence of the citizen's committee and its influence, can build the plant. Mr. Truelsen says that men shall have $2 a day if he is elected. When he was president of the board in 1893 he voted to cut the laborers' wages from $2 to $1.30. All those who have been known as the sympathizers and supporters of the old gas and water company are working for the election of Henry Truelsen. Any amount of money is being circulated to secure the election of Henry Truelsen. Let no workman make a mistake, but keep in line for the party and organization that can and will build the water plant. Wife—Here's an account of a man who shot himself rather than suffer the pains of indigestion. The fool! The fool! I used to suffer as bad as he did before I commenced taking these little pills. S. F. Boyce.

REPORTS

Two Port Reports Prepared and Given to the Public.

Maj. Sears Compiled One and the Customs Authorities the Other.

Comparison Shows That the Two Do Not Exactly Agree.

At the beginning of last season Maj. Sears announced that all arriving and departing vessels should report to his office in accordance with a federal law, and although he had some difficulty in having it carried out, carried out it was, and the report for the season is just out. It is the most accurate report compiled and it is given below. The values are all estimated.

The receipts at Duluth for the season were as follows:

Hard coal, 245,675 tons, value $1,166,596; soft coal, 356,097 tons, $947,540; building stone, 570 tons, $36,525; salt, 131,004 barrels, $5,412; machinery, 10,023 tons, $2,506,500; manufactured iron, 39,069 tons, $1,230,674; kerosene, 2722 barrels, $15,785; general merchandise, 106,455 tons, $10,446,500; logs, 136,122,000 feet, $652,261; fish, 547 tons, $42,700; cement and lime, 134,866 barrels, $4,966; sand, 14,512 cubic yards, $585; passengers, 17,851. The total tonnage, exclusive of logs, was 809,125 tons, and the total value was $17,722,351.

The shipments for Duluth are as follows: Ore, 1,595,057 tons, value, $1,586,217; copper, 5629 tons, $1,125,500; flour, 4,970,003 barrels, $12,210,009; wheat, 15,556,229 bushels, $1,275,157; other grains, 100 tons, $1,000; structural iron or steel, 166 tons, $46,651; wool, 683 pounds, $73,582; machinery, 10,023 tons, $2,506,500; miscellaneous merchandise, 16,897 tons, $1,707,700; passengers, 18,897.

Total tonnage was 2,938,945 tons; total value $29,575,500.

THE VESSEL RECORD. The 1895 vessel record of the Duluth canal is as follows: Steam vessels entered, 3123; sail and other vessels, 594; total registered tonnage, 3,596,148. Steam vessels departed, 307; total registered tonnage, 3,567,342.

The statement of receipts for Superior is as follows: Hard coal, 452,934 tons, value $2,283,937; soft coal, 633,115 tons, $1,283,281; building stone, 209 tons, $13,120; salt, 107,913 barrels, $5,412; machinery, 1349 tons, $35,250; manufactured iron, 3,447 tons, $109,525; oil, 10,066 barrels, $503,483; merchandise, $7,275; kerosene, 1349 tons, $35,250; manufactured iron, 3,447 tons, $109,525; oil, 10,066 barrels, $503,483; merchandise, $7,275; kerosene, 1349 tons, $35,250; manufactured iron, 3,447 tons, $109,525; oil, 10,066 barrels, $503,483; merchandise, $7,275.

Superior shipments—Ore, 114,022 tons, $112,486; copper, 25,241 tons, $508,209; flour, 5,029,544 barrels, $12,210,009; wheat, 20,560,229 bushels, $1,275,157; other grains, 100 tons, $1,000; structural iron or steel, 280 tons, $12,220; wool, 1,126,867 pounds, $73,582; lumber, 25,600 feet, $25,600; merchandise, 750 tons, $750,000; passengers, 303; total tonnage, 1,436,941; value, $35,590,751.

Superior canal—Steam vessels entered, 241; total registered tonnage, 1,980,556. Steam vessels departed, 236; sail and other vessels departed, 303; total tonnage, 2,962,336.

The statement for both cities is as follows: Vessels arriving, 5438, with registered tonnage of 5,578,891; vessels departing, 5280, with registered tonnage of 5,629,675. Receipts, 2,035,465 net tons, value $2,445,312; shipments, 4,355,886 net tons, value $85,564,240.

THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DULUTH CUSTOMS OFFICE is also out today, and it gives the Duluth customs authorities no agree with Maj. Sears' report. To be accurate, the Duluth report includes Two Harbors, but with the exception of a small amount of coal and a large figure in the report. The total receipts according to the customs house were 1,032,831 tons, while the shipments were 1,110,433 tons. These figures are greatly in excess of those furnished by Maj. Sears, too much so to be accounted for by the Two Harbors business.

I. Abrahamson, who is sojourning in Birmingham, Ala., wires that the weather there is unusually cold and that the sunny South is not such a pleasant place to live in just now as some people believe it to be.

The Women's Christian Temperance union will hold its regular meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the parlors of the First Methodist church.

The work of sweeping in special policemen for duty on section day, is going on at the city hall. Every day will be controlled.

The following bills have been reported to the health department: E. D. and Mary Strong, 408 East Fourth street; daughter, Richard and Ida Nelson, Twenty-second avenue west; boy, Michael P. and Catherine McMahon, 317 West Fifth street; John and Emma Cummings, 912 East Third street; girl, Walter and Laura Green, 218 East Fifth street, twin boys.

The monthly meeting of the board of health was held this morning. Dr. Roush and Messrs. Kuebler and Oie were present. The business was confined to the routine of auditing bills for the month.

The Unity club will hold one of its regular meetings at the Unitarian church, corner Eighth avenue east, and First street, this evening. The subject of "Centralization of Trade" will be discussed, with F. E. Searle as leader.

THIRD WARD MEETING. W. D. Gordon, independent, aldermanic candidate, will speak tonight at the parlors hall, 18 West Superior street. All are welcome.

THE POLICE BALL.

Members of the Force Will Dance This Evening.

Tonight the annual ball for the Police Relief association will be given at the Spaulding and will be an event of considerable prominence. The relief association is an organization which has evolved among its members nearly all the salubrious and the money is expended for the relief of sick and disabled policemen. The large amount of sickness this year has been quite a drain on the funds and the policemen here that they will realize a nice sum out of the ball.

The music will be the best to be had and every effort will be made to the comfort and entertainment of the guests will be made. There is no floor in the city which is better for dancing and there is no doubt as to the complete success of the ball. A fine supper will be served in the ordinary of the Spaulding and an annual Manager Bliss will set forth his best.

In order to allow the regular members of the force to attend the ball special policemen will take the place of the regular policemen this evening.

FIRE CHIEF'S REPORT.

Very Small Loss By Fire Last Month.

The report of Chief Black, of the fire department, for the month of January shows that the insurance companies' business for the month has been profitable, and makes the citizen wonder about those rates.

The report, in brief, is as follows: Number of alarms, eleven; total insurance, $27,200; total loss, $12. There were 235 days "off duty" time in the month on account of typhoid fever, and at the rate of the report there were eight men off duty on account of sickness and two on account of injuries. Engine company No. 2 was employed six hours and used 700 pounds of coal in cleaning the reservoir.

It's an Unfortunate FACT!

That Teeth Must Sometimes Be Extracted. The tooth is so badly decayed that filling or crowning could not save it for which there is no other remedy but the forceps. We extract teeth and guarantee to do it without pain. Being better equipped with the very latest improved means of removal, the pain is less.

THE POWER OF PRICE

The Great Unprecedented One-Half Price Sale of Fine Clothing Continues with Increased Vigor.

The Requisite Sum of money, to obtain which we found it necessary to cut our prices in half, has been obtained, for which we wish herewith to express our sincere gratitude to our hosts of friends and patrons. Your liberal response to our earnest efforts was far beyond our most sanguine expectations, but for the following reasons we still continue

THE GREAT HALF PRICE SELLING

Our annual inventory takes place a week from today and we find even now that our stocks are far too heavy; and as we intend to follow out our usual custom of showing a fresh, new stock in the spring as well as the fall, the POWER OF HALF PRICE MUST CONTINUE TO DO THE WORK OF TIME, to speedily reduce these great stocks of fine clothing to consistent proportions.

A Review of the Details—It may be of interests to some to know that together with all our magnificent Suits, Overcoats and Ulsters, Tailor-made Trousers, Mackintoshes and Luxurious House Gowns, Bath Robes and Smoking Jacket, standard Hats and Shoes at half price, we are letting all our Fine Furnishing Goods go, even including this spring's importations at 1/4 off. We propose to make this the greatest trading week recorded in the history of this house.

A New Departure—Mature business experience as manufacturers and retailers has taught us the wisdom and economy of buying direct from the producers, thereby obviating the middle man's profit, besides securing the choicest styles. For these reasons Mr. Burrows, together with our department buyers, depart for the Eastern markets shortly, and before returning, Mr. Burrows personally will sail for Europe for the purpose of visiting the London, Berlin and Parisian markets, from which he will make Direct Importations, and promises for his Furnishing Goods patrons all the most beautiful things the old world affords.
